TRIO OF PRISONERS.

Sheriff McCallister Will Add Three to the Population of Zanesville Workhouse.

Sheriff John S. McCallister leaves this morning for Zanesville, having in custody three prisoners who will serve time in the Zanesville Workhouse, as follows:

Andrew J. Cline, sentenced to sixty days imprisonment and to pay a fine and costs amounting to $100.50 for assault and battery. Cline is the fellow who shot a man in the leg at New Martins several months ago.

Walter Yerlan, sentenced to three months imprisonment and to pay a fine and costs amounting to $93.32 for non-support.

George Poulton, another non-support case, from Probate Court, sentenced to three months imprisonment and to pay costs amounting to $15.31.

SUNDAY EXCURSIONISTS.

Zanesville Trades and Labor Council Have a Pleasant Trip.

The Z. & O. special train came in Sunday forenoon with an excursion under the auspices of the Zanesville Trades and Labor Council. There were 300 persons in the party, most of whom took the steamer Barnsdall and spent a portion of the day at Blennerhassett. The entertainments at that attractive resort were somewhat interfered with by the high winds, but the excursionists nevertheless spent a delightful day the rain holding off until well along in the afternoon. They left for home at 6:30, a jolly and well behaved crowd.

NINE TO NOTHING.

Lobdell Base Ball Club Fizzes Out at McConnellsville.

The Lobdell base ball club went to McConnellsville Saturday for a game with the Reds of that city. At the end of the fourth inning the score was in favor of the Lobdells, but Gearhart and Seamon quit the diamond on account of a decision of the umpire. McCallister went in to pitch and an attempt was made to play with seven men, but McConnellsville kicked and was awarded the game by a score of nine to nothing.

FOR PETIT LARCENY.

Domestic Arrested on the Charge of Stealing From Her Former Employer.

Sheriff McCallister arrested Laura Ritchie at the Union Depot Saturday night on a warrant charging her with stealing a number of articles from Thomas Eckleberry, Second street, where she had been employed as a domestic. She was placed in jail to await a hearing for petit larceny.

A Fine Turnout.

One of the finest teams and equipments we have seen in a long time is the one which Strecker Bros. have within a few days past put on the streets. The horses are big iron greys, and will weigh 1600 pounds apiece. They are perfectly matched, and came from Harrison county. The wagon is a new one, as is the harness also. Altogether it is one of the noticeable and attractive sights on our busy streets.

On the River.

The Ohio on the last reading of the gauge was 7 feet six inches and falling. The Keystone and Kanawha passed up at 3 p. m. Saturday for Pittsburgh and the Bedford down for Charleston at 6 p. m. The Lorena and Virginia arrived down from Pittsburgh on their regular trips Sunday.

Real Estate Deal.

Attorney Thomas Ewart Saturday bought the Martin Wendelken property on Washington street, between Fourth and Fifth streets. The lot is 27 by 90 feet, and has on it a building combining both store and residence. The consideration was $1800.

Concert.

The College Glee Club concert to be given in Andrews Hall on Friday evening promises to be of interest to all who enjoy choruses of male voices. All the music is new and of a high order.

Died at Newell's Run.

Mr. Isaiah Bogard, of Newell's Run, died Sunday morning of diseases incident to old age. He was in his 75th year and leaves ten children. Burial at Newport Monday at 1 p. m.

New Player signed.

Manager Pete Quinlan, of the Plumbers base ball club, has signed Joe Bower, of Cincinnati, to play the short-stop position in Saturday's game. He is said to be a good man.

Saturday Night Fights.

Several lively scraps are reported as having occurred Saturday night and the principals will probably be before the Mayor today to tell how it all happened.

Shut Down for a Week.

The Ice Factory shut down last Wednesday for some repairs, and will probably resume in full blast on Wednesday of this week.

G. A. R.

The annual Union Memorial services will be held at the Auditorium Sunday evening, May 30th. Sermon by Rev. M. W. Acton.

WON AT LAST.

Marietta Shakes Off the Hoodoo and Downs Cambridge.

After being whipped for seven straight games, the Marietta club finally pulled itself together last Saturday and got into the percentage column at last. One game in eight is not, of course, much to be proud of, but the discouraging run of ill luck that has been hanging over the team appears to be broken and everybody looks for some good work from now on. It is almost generally conceded that with the exception of pitchers Marietta has the best club in the League and the management is determined to fill every weak place.

The score of Saturday's game was:

	R	H	E
Marietta	9	10	8
Cambridge	5	5	7

Batteries—Dolan and Stricker; Williams and Lighton.
Zanesville and Marietta will meet for the first time today on the home grounds, and with Armstrong in the box for Marietta our neighbors up the valley are certain to have a hard tussle before them.

Cambridge opens at Parkersburg today for a series of three games.

ELLA S. FOUTS.

Heart Failure Claims Another Victim Sunday Morning.

Mrs. Ella S. Fouts died Sunday morning at her home on Front street, of heart failure. She had been a sufferer from enlargement of the liver, which disease led eventually to her death. She had been ill for about two months, but was improving up to last Saturday and the suddenness with which the end came was entirely unexpected.

Mrs. Fouts was 62 years of age and leaves nine children, four sons and five daughters, of whom Misses Eleanor and Augusta Fouts and Mr. Rupert Fouts reside in this city. Deceased removed from Tridellia to Marietta a year and a half ago. She was a member of the Christian church and bore her sufferings with the patient resignation of one fully prepared for the end. The remains will be taken over the Z. & O. R. Tuesday morning to Deerfield, Morgan county, for interment beside those of the husband who preceded her.

DEATH OF JOHN D. HANNA.

Heart Trouble Causes the Death of One of Our City's Best Contractors.

To the friends of John D. Hanna the announcement of his death will come as a shocking surprise. Only about a week ago Mr. Hanna was in a condition of fairly good health, but a trouble in which the heart was largely affected brought on a speedy death which occurred Sunday morning at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Hanna lived on East Greene street, was 48 years of age, and leaves a wife and nine children. He was a man of the strictest integrity and largest respectability. His large number of friends in Washington county will be greatly pained to know of his death, and will extend their sincerest sympathy to his wife and children.

The funeral of Mr. Hanna will occur this Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

RIVALRY OF TWO TOWNS.

Duluth and Superior at War Over a Bridge.

A ten years' fight between Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis., two rival towns at the western end of Lake Superior, has found its way into the senate.

Just now, says the Washington Post, these towns are distinct and separate. Between them flows a little arm of Lake Superior called by courtesy the St. Louis river, and it is as famous in the annals of the northwest as was the Rubicon in the time of Caesar. As long as that stream of water remains unbridged, just so long will Duluth remain Duluth and Superior be known as Superior. But in the dreadful days to come, when a bridge shall span the river, it is likely that Superior will be nothing but a suburb of Duluth. This makes the doctory residents of Superior lie awake at night, distressed with fearful dreams, while they stand on the shore of the dividing stream and hurl defiance to their all-encroaching rival.

The bill authorizing the bill passed congress some time ago, but now more time is asked, and some changes in the charter are suggested. The material furnished by Pennsylvania steel men is lying at the site of the bridge, and Senator Quay daily presses the enactment of the additional legislation, but Senator Vilas, representing the Superiorites, stands guard and objects, so that the bridge is literally suspended in midair.
